A YEAR IN REVIEW

Nevada's Counties - Where Innovation and Tradition Come Together

Our counties reflected Nevada as we continued to respond to challenges this year, providing the day-to-day services our communities expect, addressing public health, and planning for future resiliency.

This year NACO undertook a once in a decade strategic planning process. Driven by our Board of Directors with input from Commissioners across the state, our Strategic Plan was adopted by the Board and will guide NACO through the next several years. NACO will continue our advocacy on behalf of Nevada's counties, provide important educational opportunities and enhance existing resources to support collaboration between counties as well as State and Federal policy matters.

With the passage of NACO sponsored, AB1 in 2021, NACO developed curriculum to educate new Legislators on the role local governments play in Nevada. Included as part of the newly elected legislator orientation, this important training included information on county fiscal administration, public services provided by counties and how decisions made at the state level impact local governments.

Counties continued to respond to public needs, with the formation of the Central Nevada Health District. NACO's Public Health Coordinator created a Road Map to improve the delivery of public health services and supported counties as they completed their needs assessments for use in the continued fight against the Opioid epidemic. This allows each county the ability to determine to the best way to support their communities with these funds.

County commissioners, staff and our private sector partners across the state gathered in historic Virginia City, where Storey County hosted NACO's annual conference. All told, nearly 300 individuals attended the 3-day event, hearing from experts on panels discussing public health, Broadband deployment, infrastructure, workforce development, public lands, and a forecast of the upcoming Legislative session. NACO honored Washoe County Commissioner Lucey as our outgoing President for 2022.

With a return to in person meetings, NACO was able to visit nearly every county commission meeting in the state to provide an overview on our organization and priorities.

NACO is proud of the collaboration, leadership, and accomplishments of our member counties in 2022. We will continue to serve as the collective voice for Nevada's counties... on to 2023.

NACO LEADERSHIP

The NACO Board of Directors is comprised of at least one Commissioner from each of our member Counties plus the President's of our Affiliate Member organizations. Clark and Washoe Counties may elect to have a second member serve on NACO's Executive Committee and an additional representative may be appointed from the counties of a current officer as well as of those Commissioners representing Nevada on the National Association of Counties Board and the Western Interstate Region Board.
